The Internal Quality Assurance Cell Meeting at college level for fourth quarter of 2024 was conducted on 30.01.2025 through virtual mode.

- Instruct all students to submit their feedback on the 55th and 105th working days, as previously informed. These feedback forms are important for monitoring and improving the quality of education and campus services. Direct students to access the online feedback form on the IQAC portal using their provided credentials. Ensure that they complete the feedback on the specified days. Review and confirm with the IQAC office that all students of respective colleges have been informed and are submitting their feedback on time. (Action: All year Coordinators)

- Ensure that all staff members have also been instructed to submit their feedback forms using the provided credentials. This feedback is integral for assessing the quality of teaching, resources, and administration. Staff should submit their feedback through their respective login credentials on the IQAC portal. Please ensure that staffs are aware of the system. (Action: All Faculty)
- The alumni feedback form is available on the IQAC portal. Kindly share the URL for the Alumni feedback form with the Alumni members. Send the URL to the alumni through email or WhatsApp, as per the communication channels with them. Instruct alumni to fill out the Alumni feedback form to provide valuable insights into the university's programs and services. (Action: ETC Co-ordinator)
- The Employer feedback form is also available on the IQAC portal. Share the URL with employers or industry partners who have collaborated with your college/institute or placement cell. Distribute the URL through email or other appropriate communication channels. Request employers to provide feedback regarding the quality of students being placed through the college's placement cell and their preparedness for the workforce. (Action: Dr. P. Karthickumar)
- Ensure that feedback regarding the overall functioning of the college and placement cell is collected. Distribute the general feedback URL to students, staff, and external stakeholders (e.g., parents or community members) via email, WhatsApp, or other communication channels. Encourage stakeholders to provide their feedback regarding their experiences with the college and placement cell to help improve overall services. (Action: Dr. P. Karthickumar)
- Once the feedback has been collected, ensure that the feedback forms are being submitted correctly and are visible on the admin level of the respective colleges. Any discrepancies in the submission should be reported to the IQAC at University level immediately. Deans and Directors should monitor the feedback submission and ensure all relevant groups (students, staff, alumni, employers) are submitting their forms on time. (Action: Dr. M. Kamalakannan)

- Ensure that all feedback forms are completed by the concerned individuals within the given timeframe. It is important to emphasize to all participants that their feedback is essential for the university's continuous improvement.

Instructions: Kindly follow up with any stakeholders who have not yet submitted their feedback to ensure compliance. (Action: Dr. M. Kamalakannan)

- Colleges should review and align their activities with the NAAC accreditation criteria as discussed by Dr. Chinnadurai's in his presentation. A focus on improving the documentation process and ensuring all evidence required for NAAC accreditation is systematically compiled and easily accessible. Submit a progress report on the preparations for the NAAC assessment.
- Based on the feedback from the Vice-Chancellor and Guest Speaker, colleges should introduce new or enhanced initiatives for continuous improvement in teaching, learning, research and student engagement. Colleges are encouraged to incorporate innovative strategies to foster academic excellence and contribute to the holistic development of students.
- Colleges should focus on expanding research and extension activities in line with national and global trends. Promote interdisciplinary research and increase collaboration with industries and other academic institutions. Ensure that the feedback mechanism includes research output and its societal impact.
- Colleges should establish an effective system for monitoring the progress of IQAC activities and the implementation of action plans. Regular reports on the progress made in each of these areas should be submitted to the IQAC office for review. (Action: Dr. M. Kamalakannan)

(x) Directorate of Vocational and Incubation Training in Fisheries Ramanathapuram

The IQAC Quarterly meeting of 2024 was conducted on 09.09.2024. The Chairperson Dr. N. Neethiselvan, Director i/c., inaugurated the meeting, Mr. M. Kalaiarasan, Assistant Professor and Sivasudalaimani, Mechanical Engineer and the students were attended the meeting.

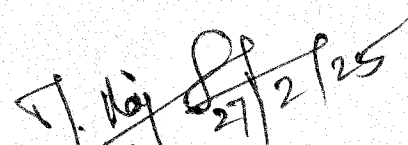

The following points were discussed as follows:

- Hostel facilities
 - The meeting likely addressed the current state of hostel facilities available for students, focusing on improvements, maintenance, and overall living conditions.
 - Topics have included the availability of rooms, sanitation, and hygiene standards, the availability of basic amenities such as Wi-Fi, water supply, and power backup, as well as the food quality in hostel messes.
 - Discussions may have revolved around enhancing the hostel environment for students, possibly introducing more comfortable or modern accommodations, addressing any complaints, and ensuring the safety and security of the residents.
 - Potential new initiatives, like increasing the number of hostels or creating specialized accommodations for international or postgraduate students, might have been considered.
- Sports facilities
 - This topic could have focused on the status and availability of sports infrastructure for the students, such as playgrounds, gym facilities, and indoor sports arenas.

- The need for new sports equipment, maintenance of existing facilities, and the introduction of new sports programs or events might have been discussed.
- It's likely that there were discussions on increasing student participation in sports activities, perhaps by organizing inter-departmental or inter-collegiate sports events or encouraging fitness programs for students' well-being.
- The meeting may have also touched on the importance of promoting physical activities alongside academics to foster a holistic environment for student growth.
